

Balloons Blow... Don't Let Them Go!

(perhaps don't use them at all)

Save money and time by not having to constantly fill and replace balloons!

- Businesses can save money by replacing wasteful balloons & opting for reusable products. Banners, flags, lawn spinners, streamers & pinwheels can all be used for years without adding unnecessary waste to the planet.
- Using Helium balloons outdoors should be discouraged, as they often end up escaping.
- Many municipalities prohibit the use of balloons as signage.
- The public is becoming more aware of the wasteful, harmful trash balloons become and will avoid businesses that use them.
- Tens of thousands of advertising dollars are wasted annually purchasing this temporary signage.
- People with latex allergies must avoid businesses/events that use balloons.
- Repeated exposure to latex can elevate allergy risk.
- Loose balloons may float to the ceiling and set off alarm systems.
- Balloons often end up polluting the environment & have killed countless animals who mistake the spent remains as food or get entangled in the string.
- Helium, a finite resource, should be conserved for scientific & medical applications.
- Conserving resources, creating less waste & protecting wildlife is a social responsibility we all share.
